

The proportion of pensioners who live in low-income households is much lower than a decade ago, the proportion for children is a bit lower, and the proportion for working-age adults without dependent children is a bit higher

Source: Households Below Average Income, DWP; UK; updated Sep 2010