

The only group where the number of low-income people is higher than a decade ago is working-age adults without dependent children

Change in the number of people below 60% of contemporary housing costs after deducting housing costs between 1996/97 to 1998/99 and 2006/07 to 2008/09

Source: Households Below Average Income, DWP; Great Britain; updated Sep 2010