

The essential items that are mostly commonly lacking are those which are directly money-related

For each group of items/activities, average proportion of households who do not have the item/activity because they cannot afford it

Source: Millennium Survey of Poverty and Social Exclusion, 1999, Gordon, D., Middleton, S. and Bradshaw, J.R.; Great Britain