

The number of working households who are in receipt of tax credits has more than doubled over the last decade

Number of working families who are in receipt of tax credits over and above the family element, expressed as a proportion of all working-age households

Source: Geographic analyses, HM Revenue & Customs; UK; updated Apr 2011