

Unless all adults in the family are working (and at least one of them full time), the risks of a child being in low income are substantial

Source: Households Below Average Income, DWP; UK; updated Sep 2010