

Tax credits now take around 1 million children in working families out of low income - but almost 1 million more children need this support than a decade ago

Children in families where at least one of the adults is working (millions)

Source: Households Below Average Income, DWP; Great Britain; updated Sep 2010