

The proportion of employees aged 22 and over who were low paid fell between 2002 and 2005 but has not changed much since then. In 2010, 3½ million people - two-thirds of them women - were paid less than £7 per hour.

Source: Calculations based on ONS estimates; UK; updated Dec 2010