

The proportion of older people receiving home care has halved since 1994 as available resources are increasingly focussed on those deemed most in need

Source: NHS Information Centre, H1 data; England; updated Apr 2011