

On average, English county councils support a smaller proportion of older people to live at home than urban authorities

Source: NHS Information Centre, P2S data; the data is the average for 2008 to 2010; England; updated Apr 2011