

While four fifths of the rural population have a shop in their parish, half of the people in parishes of less than 1,000 people do not

For each group of parishes, proportion of the population who do not have the stated service in their parish

