

In two-thirds of households in social housing, the head of household is not in paid work. Although this has been the case throughout the last decade, it was only a half at the start of the 1980s.

Source: Labour Force Survey, ONS; UK; updated Mar 2011