

Although poorer households remain more likely to lack central heating, the proportion who did so in 2003/04 was actually less than that for households on average incomes in 1999/00

Source: The Family Resources Survey, ONS; Great Britain