

Many of those who are effectively homeless live in concealed households, and most of these people do not have dependent children

