

There are estimated to be around a million households currently needing new subsidised housing

Source: A Shelter report entitled Building for the future: 2004 update; England; updated July 2007