

Low-income households are more likely than richer households to feel dissatisfied with the area they live in, but the proportion is still small

Source: English Housing Survey, DLCG; England; updated Jan 2011