

The rate of deaths of those aged under 65 in the worst area - Glasgow - is twice as high as in some other authorities

Deaths of those aged under 65 per 100,000 aged under 65, after standardising to the European population by age and sex

Source: General Register Office for Scotland and Mortality Statistics Division, ONS; the data is averaged for the three years to 2006; updated Aug 2007