

The proportion of working-age people with a limiting long-term illness is higher in Northern Ireland than in most of Great Britain

Source: 2001 Census, ONS