

Although the great majority of working-age households everywhere in Northern Ireland use a car to get to work, the proportion without a car is far higher in Belfast and Derry than elsewhere

■ % of working-age households without a car (LH axis)
— % of working households where at least one person drives to work (RH axis)

