

As in urban districts, low-income households are more likely to have no bank or building society account than households on average incomes

Source: Family Resources Survey, DWP; the data is the average for 2006/07 to 2008/09; England; updated Nov 2010