

The proportion of working-age people in receipt of out-of-work benefits is more than twice as high in Glasgow, Inverclyde, West Dunbartonshire and North Ayrshire than in some other parts of Scotland

Source: Work and Pensions Longitudinal Study, DWP; the data is for February 2010; updated Dec 2010