

The proportion of P5 (9-year-old) pupils in deprived schools failing to achieve level B in reading, writing and maths has fallen considerably, but is still much higher than P5 pupils on average

Source: unpublished data from the Scottish Executive