

The number of people aged 65 and over receiving home care fell by a third between 1996 and 2002 but has remained fairly steady since then

Source: Community Care Statistics, Scottish Executive; updated Feb 2011