

In most authorities, at least two-fifths of the heads of working-age households living in social housing are not in paid work

Source: 2001 Census