

Every local authority has at least a sixth of its working-age households in receipt of tax credits

Number of working families who are in receipt of tax credits over and above the family element, expressed as a proportion of all working-age households

