

Wales has a slightly higher proportion of households who are in receipt of tax credits than the average for the whole of the UK

Number of working families who are in receipt of tax credits over and above the family element, expressed as a proportion of all working-age households

Source: Geographic Analyses, HM Revenue & Customs; April 2011 data; updated Apr 2011