

A gap in the rate of infant deaths among those from manual and non-manual social backgrounds appears to have opened up during the 1990s

Source: Childhood, infant and perinatal mortality statistics, DH3, ONS