

Single adult households - both with and without children - are much more likely to be workless than couple households

For each group, proportion of working-age households who are workless

Source: Labour Force Survey, ONS; updated Apr 2011