

The risk of fuel poverty rises as the energy efficiency of homes falls, so the risk is greatest when low income is combined with energy inefficiency

For each combination of energy efficiency and household income, proportion of households who are in fuel poverty

Source: English Housing Survey, DCLG; the data is the average for the three years to 2009; England; updated Jul 2011