

The pattern of an increase in total jobs, combined with a decrease in the number of jobs in the production industries, has occurred throughout most of Great Britain as well as in Northern Ireland

For each region, change in jobs between 2001 and 2011 as a proportion of the total jobs in 2001

